DATE: January 2, 2018

TO: Chairs, Associate Chairs, Program Heads, School Directors and Graduate Studies Committee Chairs

FROM: David A. Benfield, Associate Vice President for Agricultural Administration and Director, Wooster Campus

SUBJECT: 2018 William E. Krauss Director’s Award for Excellence in Graduate Research

Dr. William E. Krauss was a faculty member and first Associate Director of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station and later OARDC from 1948 to 1969. This award was established to recognize excellence by a Ph.D. student for best published peer reviewed publication.

This memorandum announces the continuation of the 2018 William E. Krauss Award for Excellence in Research. Like last year, this award will be for the best published paper by a doctoral student. A total of one award will be available and each department may submit up to two individuals who received their Ph.D. no earlier than the 2017 calendar year and have refereed publications either that have been published or are accepted for publication. Please see the attached guidelines for the complete guidelines and eligibility. Please be sure your faculty are informed of the award.

The awardee will receive $1,000 and a framed copy of the reprint paper which will be presented at the annual OARDC Research Conference to be held on Friday, April 27, 2018 in Wooster, Ohio. Faculty mentor(s) will also receive a framed reprint of the paper in recognition of their contribution to the paper. The target date for a final announcement of the award is approximately February 19, 2018.

The deadline for electronic submission at http://www.oardc.ohio-state.edu/competitions is on or before 5:00pm, Wednesday, January 31, 2018.
Guidelines and Procedures for 2018
William E. Krauss Director's Award for Excellence in Graduate Research

Background. The William E. Krauss Award for Excellence in Research was established through a gift from the William E. Krauss family to recognize excellence in research by a doctoral student. Although the award was originally based on the research presented in the completed dissertation, it has evolved in recent years to recognize the best paper published by a current or recently-graduated PhD student. This award serves to emphasize the importance to doctoral students of publishing their data in a refereed journal and rewards the student for producing the highest quality peer-reviewed research. The award will be presented at the OARDC Annual Research Conference on Friday, April 27, 2018 in Wooster, Ohio, where both the student recipient and the major advisor are recognized for their contribution to the scientific community.

Eligibility. The competition is open to all Ph.D. students working on an OARDC-supported project.

Guidelines and procedures.
1. Each department/school may nominate up to two individuals who received the PhD no earlier than the 2017 calendar year, and have refereed publications either that have been published or are accepted for publication (in press). The referred publications to be considered for the award must be related to the content of the Ph.D. thesis and submitted either during the tenure of the student in the Ph.D. program or up to one year after finishing the program.
2. The refereed publication submitted for consideration of the award must be based on research done as part of the doctoral dissertation and the student must be the lead author of the publication. The affiliation of the student with a department associated with OARDC should be clearly presented.
3. The publications will be selected according the quality of the publication which can include the following criteria: originality/creativity, sophistication of data and research methods, and significance/relevance. Some evaluation of the strength of supporting letters (see below) may also be considered.

Materials to be submitted.
1. Nomination Cover Page
2. A letter of nomination from the department chair/school director, to verify the eligibility of the student, that the paper is/will be an integral part of the doctoral dissertation and that the paper was part of an OARDC project.
3. Two letters of support from faculty knowledgeable in the area of the publication providing an assessment of the quality and the significance within discipline of the paper.
4. If the paper is not yet in print but accepted for publication, then please provide a copy of the letter from the journal editor verifying the acceptance.
5. One copy of reprint or cop of the refereed paper.

Award. The awardee will receive $1,000 and a framed copy of the reprint paper. Faculty mentor(s) will also receive a framed reprint of the paper in recognition of their contribution.

Deadline for electronic submission at http://www.oardc.ohio-state.edu/competitions on or before 5:00pm, Wednesday, January 31, 2018.
